While, on its departure from Chicago, it was announced that aside from making up the "slate," the committee would take the rest curs and look over historic Virginia, other members of the Chicago Council drubtless will be of the opinion that the greater part of the time was used in another direction articles.

of the opinion that the greater part of the time was used in another direction entirely. As a matter of fact, the deliberations of the committee will result in a veritable "shake-up."

Leaving Chicago, apparently, with the task of naming twenty-four standing committees, the delegation will return with the recommendation that they be reduced one-half, and be placed on a working basis, that is, enough business will be given each committee to keep it at work. From its vantage point in the mountains of Virginia, the "slate" committee became convinced that several of the Council organizations had little or nothing to do, and they were stricken from the list, having their tasks distributed among the dozen survivors of the old regime.

Some idea of the change may be had vrom the statement that under the old order of things there were 270 committee assignments, whereas now there will be only 190. The number on the four select committees will remain the same—thirty-one. So the new organization provides for a total of 211 places, as against 301 under the former system. The Republicans receive swenty-three committee jobs and the Democrats 138.

The particular portion of the journey that takes the delegation by this city is in no sense political, and its members are loth to say much about the political situation, unless you care to discuss in a casual way the chances of one of the many candidates for the presidential chair.

Heretofore, in its efforts to be abayoutely free from all political associations in making up the lists, the committee has been unsuccessful, and it was said on this occasion that every though it was so far removed, it would be impossible to escape the solicitations of the anxious ones in Chicago. To a certain extent this has been true, but it also is a fact that they found themselves more unhampered this year than ever before. Then, too, they saw Virginia and had the rest that they promised themselves. They are returning to Chicago this morning.

on Ordinance.

All classes of school teachers save those of the elementary grades were before the Committee on Finance last night, seeking an increase in pay. It was recalled that the Council so amended the budget as to give all of the $27,000 set apart for increasing the pay of teachers to less than half of the entire number, who teach in the white elementary grades. This left the kindergarteners, high school teachers, principals, janitors and colored teachers with no raise, and a supplementary resolution has been offered appropriating $17,000 additional to rectify the admitted injustice done when the budget was amended. The Finance Committee heard from them all, but took no action.

An equally large delegation, headed by SuperIntendent J. A. C. Chandler, Oscar E. Parrish, Rev. R. A. Goodwin and others, appeared in behalf of the plans for new Bellevue School, urging the committee not to scale the appropriation or to eliminate the auditorium feature.

priation or to eliminate the auditorium feature.

Admitting that the primary was approaching, and that they had constituents needing jobs in the Fire Department, Councilmen Poliock and Jones, of new Madison Ward, appeared in behalf of a resolution for the purchase of a motor hook and ladder truck for the Fire Department, the resolution providing for the transfer of one of the horse trucks now in use to South Richmond, and the addition of a company of ten men to the Fire Department pay roll.

The ordinance regulating the electric plant was argued at length by Chairman Mills, of the Water Committee, and Chairman Don Leavy, of the Electricity Committee, with the usual divergence of views as to the uses to be made of the expensive plant that city has erected.

The committee heard speeches until it offices, then went into executive seasion, and authorized payment to be made for the City Dock in city bonds, at par, the price being $80,000.

J. B. Siegfried, recently elected clerk of Special Assessments to succeed the position, the committee closed the position, the committee closed Charles P. Cooke, now an employe of the Fulton Brick Compani. The other name in nomination was that of John A. Dunnington.

Without taking un its docket, the committee adjourned to next Monday night at Sociock.

Courtney—Roberta.

West Point, Va., April 15.—The West Point Baptist Church was the scene of a pretty wedding this aftermoon at 1 o'clock, when Miss Lillian Pearl Roberts, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Roberts, and John Wilfred Courtney, son of W. S. Courtney, of Little Plymouth, were married by Rev. E. R. Harris, pastor of the church. church.

The bride entered with her brother, Fred Roberts, of Saxannah, Ga., who gave her away. Her only attendant was Miss Mae Owens, her cousin. The best man was Liewellyn Courtney, brother of the groom. The ushers were Charles Ellmore, Hugh Norment, Bernard Field and Arthur Owens, Mrs. A. J. Bagby, cousin of the bride, presided at the organ.

Mr. and Mrs. Courtney left on the 1:30 train for a Northern trip. They will be at home after May 1.

The guests from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roberts, Savannah, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Burton. Elsom: Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Diggs, W. S. Courtney, and Mrs. Guthrie, of Little Piymouth; Mr. and Mrs. L. Courtney, King and Queen; Hugh Norment, Williamshurg; Misses Pearl and Gladys Rilee, Irvington.
